TEEN HEALED OF BROKEN NECK

On April 17, 2000, my son Nathan was in a near-fatal car accident. Investigators believe he lost control of the family convertible while trying to avoid a deer. Forty-five minutes later, Kevin Lindow, a young man with emergency medical skills, found Nathan at the scene of the crash and stabilized his neck while his mother called for help. When they arrived at the hospital, Nathan was suffering from a broken leg, spinal-cord damage, and numerous lacerations to his body. Doctors began treating him and found he was having trouble breathing due to a collapsed lung. To stabilize him, they decided to drug-induce a coma.

Nathan spent four days in that coma, and doctors at Marshfield Clinic estimated his odds for survival at 1-in-100. Then when they removed the drugs, he didn't come out of the coma. That night I prayed and read the Bible to Nathan, repeating the words Jesus said to Lazarus: "Come forth," I told him, "You've got to fight. You've got to wake up." And the next morning he did, acknowledging me later that afternoon. We were beside ourselves with joy.

But the spinal-cord damage was of major concern. Nathan had a fracture in the C-4 vertebra in his neck, the same part of the spinal cord that actor Christopher Reeve injured several years ago. The doctors gave Nathan a protective neck collar to help prevent against further separation of the vertebrae. He was in immediate danger of full or partial paralysis.

Nathan has the practice of reading his Bible and praying before going to bed at night. For two weeks, he prayed earnestly for healing. One night as he was lying still, falling asleep in bed, he noticed a popping sound in his neck. The next morning, physicians performed three sets of X-rays to see if the vertebrae were continuing to separate. Instead, the X-rays showed that the vertebrae had fused back together, stunning the nurses and doctors. There was no medical explanation. Just three months after the accident, doctors cleared Nathan to resume his participation in athletics, including football, wrestling, and track and field.

Fill My Eyes

* GREETING

Bless the Lord, O my soul.
May all that is within me bless God's holy name.
Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits.
The Lord forgives all our sins and heals all our diseases.
The Lord redeems us from the grave
and crowns us with steadfast love and mercy.
He satisfies us with good as long as we live.
Rejoice in the Lord!

* HYMN OF PRAISE Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven UMH 66

* OPENING PRAYER

Father God, You alone are our Redeemer, our Provider, our Healer and our King.
As we worship You, remind us of the depth of Your love,
the cost of Your mercy,
and the glory of Your deeds,
that we may honour and magnify You as You deserve.
As we attend to Your words,
cause our hearts and our attitudes to be aligned to Yours
that we may carry out Your purposes in our lives.
We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THANKSGIVING

Father, we thank You that we can trust You in every situation and not simply when life is good and wholesome and we are not facing any major problems.
 Thank You for the assurance that there is no darkness that Your love cannot penetrate,
 and there is no burden that You cannot carry.
 We thank You for Christ's coming into our world
 with all its daily uncertainties and worries;
 that He has walked where we walk, face what we face
 and been confronted by the pressure and stress of temptation.
 We thank You that nothing, but nothing, can separate us from Your love to us in Christ Jesus our Lord.
